EBERT DEMANDS WITHDRAWAL OF BAVARIA'S KICK

German President Asks
For Recall Of Decree
Against Defense Act
SITUATION EASIER

Law Aimed At Angry
Enemies Of Republic
To Be Enforced

BERLIN, July 27.—President Ebert of the German Republic today addressed a letter to Count Von Lerchenfeldt, Premier of Bavaria, demanding the withdrawal of the Bavarian decree "outlawing" the Defense Act of the republic. This act which was passed over the protests of the Bavarian Monarchists.

Government officials here were generally of the opinion today that the Bavarian crisis, which has been threatening Germany with civil war and a breakdown of the confederation of states will be averted. It was said that the government warning to Bavaria against secret plottings will be followed by a statement from President Ebert appealing to the Bavarians to keep the peace.

There was a strong current of opinion that the Reichstag would not be summoned to deal with the situation as officials believed that the tension could be allayed best if the negotiations were conducted quietly between Berlin and Munich. Independent Socialists are most hostile against Bavarians, claiming that the Southern Monarchists are only awaiting an opportunity to attempt to overthrow the Central government.

GUARANTORS FOR 1923 CHAUTAUQUA ARE BEING SIGNED

Capacity House Enjoys
"Cappy Ricks" By The
Vivian Players

END IS IN SIGHT

A capacity audience deeply enjoyed Peter E. Ryn's "Cappy Ricks" as played by the Percival Vivian troupe at chautauqua Wednesday evening. The exceptionally strong cast served to provide the last requisite in the production of a big success in comedy drama.

The plot and dramatization required little in the way of scenery, and the players themselves left nothing to be desired. Altogether it was a most refreshing resumption of the week's program after the Wednesday afternoon rest period.

Signatures of guarantors for next year's chautauqua were being secured on the grounds last night by promoters. It was hoped that the names of at least one hundred citizens might be appended to the list before the close of the season's program Friday night. The big majority had already been secured Wednesday night.

The McCord Entertainers provided the prelude to the afternoon lecture Thursday by Mrs. Winifred Sackville Stoner, on "Nature's Way in Education." The same company will provide music tonight before the Henry and Company magicians take the stage for the entertainment proper.

The junior pageant, "Conquests of Peace," which has been prepared by Miss Clark, the junior chautauqua director, will be given Friday afternoon, by the children. It will be followed by a concert by Ruby Gall's Light Opera Sextet. The sextet will give a prelude to the Friday evening lecture, which closes the program, by Dr. Allen D. Albert. Dr. Albert's subject is "New Social Influences."

Business Men To Help In Field Day

On July 30, with Lieutenant Benjamin Foulois as passenger, he made an eighteen-mile cross-country flight. The U. S. Air Services will hold fitting celebrations of these two days. This photograph shows a close-up of the machine then used. Standing behind it are Wilbur Wright (now dead) and Lieutenant (now Colonel) Foulois. In front are Orville Wright and Lieutenant Lamb.

VARIED PROGRAM IS PLANNED FOR LABOR DAY AT FAIRLAWN

Trades Council Will Call
Meeting To Discuss Candidates

Fast motor cycle races with a purse of $500 for both events, one 25 mile and the other a 50 mile race, will feature the racing program, to be given by the Central Trades and Labor council at the fairground on Labor Day.

One of the outstanding races of the day will be between an aeroplane and a motor cycle. This thrilling feat has never been seen in this city.

The day's program consists of a baseball game, speaking, band concert, motor cycle races, flour blowing contest, bicycle races, boxing matches, high class vaudeville acts and other important events, which are soon to be arranged by the labor council program committee.

According to the program committee the motor cycle fans are guaranteed the fastest races ever seen in Coshocton.

The committee reported Thursday that the privileges are selling fast on the grounds and many applications were coming in Thursday for concessions, of which only those of clean character will be accepted. The vaudeville acts will be held in the grandstand in the evening.

Proceeding the discussion of the Labor Day program and other important activities at the grounds on that day, the Trades and Labor council at their regular meeting last evening in the Labor hall, Masonic lodge building, planned on calling together all union workers, the date and place to be announced later to carefully study the records of the various political candidates and their replies to questionnaires as submitted by The Ohio State Federation of Labor.

The object is that each voter may have the opportunity to clearly analyze each candidate's platform and learn which can be expected to protect their interest. The members say that the candidate who is prejudiced against the union worker, can cleverly deceive them by supporting the forces of reaction under the assumption that they would receive a square deal. In regard to this, President Carl Whitaker said: "Let it be clearly understood that it is neither the purpose nor the desire of the Trades and Labor council to instruct or even request that the rank and file of labor support any certain candidate or group of candidates. We will give our voters facts. They may let their consciences be their guides."

FASCISTI MOBILIZE TO CURB GROWTH OF ITALIAN COMMUNISM

Leading Statesmen Are Unable To Form A
New Government
KING IS UNEASY

ROME, July 27.—Efforts of Deputy Meola to form a cabinet in succession to the Facta ministry ended in failure today.

In the meantime the political situation grows more tense with rumors of a possible military dictatorship. It was expected that King Victor Emanuel would invite Signor Donava to attempt the formation of a ministry and in the event of his failure would call upon Signor Orlando or Signor Deleano.

The government position is insecure and the outcome can not be foreseen. Practically all the leading statesmen have admitted their inability to form a new government. Public tension has arisen to fever pitch over the warfare between the Fascisti and the Communists and Socialists in the north. Both sides have armed and prepared for as spread of the conflict.

The Fascisti have issued a manifesto calling for general mobilization. The proclamation also demands the expulsion of all Socialists and Republicans from the government of the Department of Emilia. Already thousands of Fascisti have been killed in the northern part of Italy, most of them in the Department of Piedmont.

TRUCE IN RAIL STRIKE SOUGHT BY PRESIDENT

Leaders Of Both Sides
Are In Conference At White House

HARDING SILENT

Proposition Is Believed
Made For Temporary
Peace On Roads

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Definite progress toward establishing a truce in the national railroad strike that is slowly paralyzing industry and commerce was made here today in a series of white house conferences which brought before President Harding all the parties directly concerned in the controversy.

In the face of white house silence as to the actual steps taken, or proposals made, the most significant development was the announcement by T. Dewitt Cuyler, president of the Railway Executives Association, that he is certain other executives will remain in Washington for a week or so. The announcement followed an hour's conference between Cuyler and the president this morning.

Even more significant was the announcement that Cuyler would return to the white house for another session with the chief executive tonight, the president in the meantime having a conference with B. M. Jewell, strike director, and leaders of the six federated shopcrafts concerned in the tie-up.

While the white house was silent today on the president's renewed efforts in the situation, it was believed, Mr. Harding "summoned" the opposing sides to Washington to make a proposition to them along the following lines:

1. The executives to recede from their stubborn position on seniority rights and temporarily to permit the strikers to return to work on their old status, pending a permanent settlement of the question under more stable conditions.

2. The strikers to return to work, also on a temporary basis, pending a hearing of their grievances by the railway labor board.

Cuyler went into conference with President Harding at the white house about the same time that Jewell arrived in Washington from Chicago. What amounted to an appeal to both sides to "listen to reason" and permit a resumption of operations pending opportunity for more deliberate settlement under cooler conditions, was contained in President Harding's telegram of rebuke to J. Van Cleave, chairman of the Railway Employers' Public Association at Chattanooga. In order to accept this "return to reason" President Harding must first prevail upon the "hard boiled" element among the railway executives to allow the strikers to return to work with their seniority and other rights unimpaired.

LONG ILLNESS OF MRS. W. I. MILLS ENDED BY DEATH

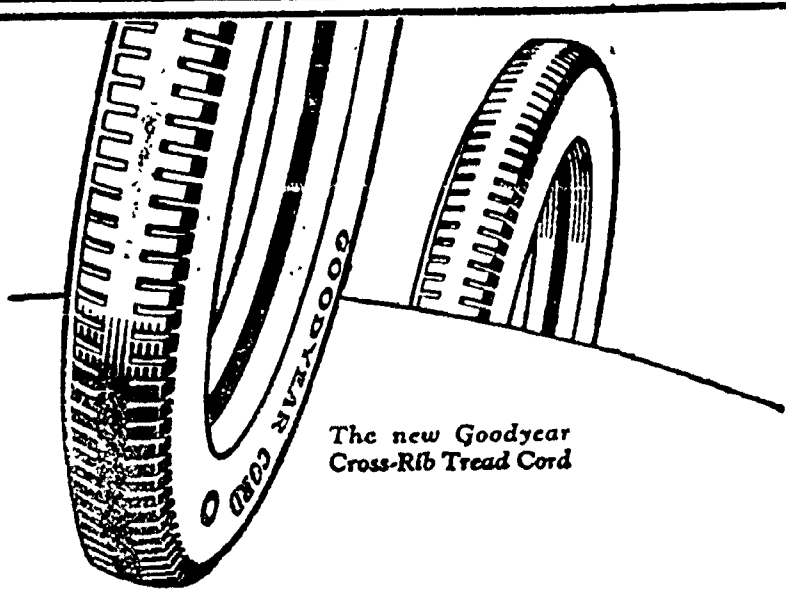

Mrs. William I. Mills, aged 47, of Conesville Route 2, died Wednesday afternoon at 3:30, after an illness of several years. Five months ago Mr. Mills was operated upon for cancer, and since that time has suffered constantly until death relieved her Wednesday.

Before her marriage Mrs. Mills was Amy B. Harder. She was the daughter of Edmond and Sarah Jane Harder, and was born in Washington-twp April 30, 1875. Practically her entire life was spent in Coshocton-co.

She was married August 16, 1893, to W. I. Mills of Adams Mills. To this union two children were born. During her girlhood Mrs. Mills attended the Chaffin M. E. church, and ten years ago she united with the Plains M. E. church, in which she retained an active membership until illness prevented her from attendance. She was a devoted wife and mother, and a sincere Christian woman.

Besides the late W. I. Mills, she leaves three children, Jesse Mills, of Conesville Route 2, Mrs. Virgil Smalles, of Conesville, and Mabel, an adopted daughter, of the home; five brothers, David Hardesty of Illinois, John of Fresno, and Howard, Henry and Noah, all of Conesville, and two grand-children, Sylvia Bell and Della Mayfield, of Conesville.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday afternoon at two o'clock in the Plains church at Adams Mills. Rev. Norman Summerville of Conesville will officiate. Burial will be made in the Adams Mills cemetery.

The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord

Discounting the "Discount" in Advance

You don't have to be a shrewd bargainer to get the bottom price on the new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord.

Instead of listing it at a high price, to enable the dealer to attract you with a so-called "long discount," we list it as low as we profitably can. You can see from the figures below that its advertised price is lower than the net price you are asked to pay for many "long discount" tires of unknown value.

We believe the average man would rather buy tires on this frank and open basis, and assure himself a product of recognized worth.

The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord is made of high-grade long-staple cotton, and it embodies the patented Goodyear method of group-ply construction.

In design, materials and manufacture it is a representative Goodyear product, built to safeguard the world-wide Goodyear reputation.

It has a different tread from the famous All-Weather Tread Cord—a new tread with a deep, clean-cut, cog-like pattern—and it sells for from 20% to 25% less.

You can get the new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord now, as well as the famous All-Weather Tread Cord, from any of the Goodyear Service Station Dealers listed here.

PESKY BED BUGS

Bedbugs lay an average of seven eggs per day. Under favorable conditions they hatch in five days, which two-thirds are females. They mature to adult size and are capable of laying in four weeks. How many bedbugs would you have in a year if you left one female or egg unnoted for one year?

To rid the pesky bedbug, you really see how necessary it is to use a preparation that will kill the eggs as well as the live ones. P. D. Q. has been demonstrated by the leading Hospitals, Hotels and Railroad Companies that the safest and most economical way to stop bedbugs is by using P. D. Q.

LEWIS SAYS GOV'T HAS FAILED; IND. GOVERNOR REPLIES

INDIANAPOLIS, July 27.—Statements of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America that the government's schemes for reopening coal mines of the country have proved failures were branded as "defiant and disloyal" by Governor Warren T. McCray today in a telegram sent to President Harding. "I feel they call for prompt and positive action on the part of the federal authorities," the telegram read. "Indiana stands behind you in whatever course you may elect to take to settle the strike or bring about resumption of coal production."

MANSFIELD, July 27.—Lillian Brown is dead as the result of a razor wound by Mrs. Lula Bell Campbell.

FRECKLE-FACE

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots. How to Remove Easily

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable concern that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from any druggist, and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case. Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength Othine as this strength is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

Both women are colored. Mrs. Campbell freely admits the cutting and claims they were fighting over Charles Powell.

Mrs. Campbell is the wife of Fred Campbell who is serving life in the Ohio State Penitentiary for killing his brother Frank Campbell at Plymouth.

MARION INDUSTRIES ARE IMPERILED BY SHORTAGE OF COAL

MARION, July 27.—Local coal dealers are frantic over the coal outlook. The situation is so acute that there is danger of plants being closed before August 1, it was said today. A survey indicates that the largest plants here have a meager supply.

The Columbus, Delaware and Marion Electric Railway Company, which operates the local street car lines here and at Delaware as well as the interurban between Columbus and Marion, has sufficient coal to last six months.

HOLMES-CO FARMERS PLACE HIGH VALUE ON COSHOCTON BUREAU

The Coshocton County Farm Bureau stands high in the opinion of Holmes-co farmers, according to the statement of John H. Taylor, president of the Holmes County Farm Bureau.

Speaking of farm activities in Holmes and Coshocton-cos, Mr. Taylor took occasion to laud Coshocton-co farmers.

"The Coshocton Farm Bureau," he said, "has been an inspiration to the farmers of Holmes-co and particularly to the members of the Holmes County Farm Bureau."

In his statement he cited two outstanding features. They are the Coshocton Bureau's livestock shipments and the great strides which it has made recently along the co-operative line.

"The livestock shipments," declared Mr. Taylor, "of the Coshocton Bureau, are wonderful and the interest which Coshocton farmers show in the co-operative plan of farm work is a great feather in the cap of the organization."

The Coshocton Bureau, in the estimation of Mr. Taylor, ranks very high among the various farm bureaus of the state.

CANDIDATE FINDS NAME WRONG ON THE WAYNE COUNTY BALLOT

Attorney W. F. Garver, Millersburg, a candidate for the state senator nomination on the Democratic party from the Holmes Coshocton-co district, plans action against the Wayne County Board of Elections as the result of a report received here to the effect that his name is incorrectly printed on the ballots in that county.

The state senatorial district is composed of Holmes, Coshocton, Morrow, Knox, Wayne, Tuscarawas, Guernsey, and parts of Noble and Monroe-cos. Officially it is known as the 18th-19th and 17th-28th district. The state senator primary fight is attracting great interest over the entire district and is regarded as a very important one.

According to the word received here Garver's name is printed on the Wayne-co ballots as "W. F. Garver" instead of "W. F." Attorney Garver declares that the mistake is a vital one and that he will demand that stickers bearing his name correctly printed be placed on the ballots. In the event that he is met with a refusal he declares that he will carry the matter into court and get an injunction.

There are six candidates out for the Democratic nomination and two are to be nominated. Dr. J. E. Foster, Coshocton, is among the Democratic aspirants.

KILLBUCK MAN SUES KANAVEL WRENCH CO.

MILLERSBURG, O., July 27.—Sue was filed here today by Lyman N. Kanavel, Killbuck, against the Kanavel Wrench Company, Killbuck, for the cancellation of a contract which the former has with the defendant company.

The company, Kanavel alleges, is not manufacturing wrenches in the manner agreed upon and he asks for cancellation of the contract and damages to the extent of $1,500. Kanavel, under the agreement, was to receive a royalty upon all wrenches manufactured.

TRUMBULL WHEAT IS HOLMES-CO FAVORITE

MILLERSBURG, O., July 27.—Trumbull wheat bids fair to become the favorite variety of wheat in Holmes-co as the result of a recent inspection of wheat fields in this county by a state inspector.

According to the report filed with the Farm Bureau here, it was found that Trumbull wheat produced from 20 to 22 bushels to the acre while other varieties produced from but 12 to 15 bushels per acre in the same locality.

Of the 50 fields inspected, 30 passed the test of the inspection for first class wheat, being free from cockle, smut, cheat and other impurities.

A total of 203 1/2 acres was inspected.

TO PROTECT FARMERS

The organization of a Vigilance Committee to operate in Holmes-co in conjunction with the Holmes County Farm Bureau and business men of Millersburg is now being promoted here as the result of a meeting held this week.

It is the plan of the Ohio Farm Federation to establish such organizations throughout the state in the interest of investors.

According to Mr. Anstaett one will be organized in Coshocton-co within the near future, a request having been received by the Federation from the Coshocton County Farm Bureau to send an investigation man into that field.

SHOPMEN'S LEADERS STAND FIRM FOR A BLANKET AGREEMENT

CHICAGO, ILL., July 27.—"Stand firm and stick together," appeared today to be the slogan of the striking railway shopmen as negotiations for settlement of the walkout reached a stage where each side apparently was waiting for the next move of the opposition. The faces of the union leaders, headed by B. M. Jewell, president of the Railway Employees Department of the American Federation of Labor, were set firm against any "separate peace" with individual railroads. The strike leaders likewise were showing no indications of receding from their original platform.

Much interest was being manifested in the efforts of Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio, to reach a separate agreement with employees of that road. Railroad executives awaited the outcome of the conference at Baltimore with the belief that if the Baltimore & Ohio is able to effect a separate peace, similar action can be taken by other roads.

Several overtures from regional leaders of the strikers to be allowed to negotiate separate agreements with the railroads have been vigorously discouraged by Jewell and his associates. It is known. It is also reported on excellent authority that several railroad executives have come to Jewell with proposals for separate peace and have been emphatically turned down.

The stand of the strike leaders is that any peace agreement must apply to all railroads of the country and evidences today were that they were "digging in" for a fight to achieve this end. With the announcement from the White House at Washington that the government has no plan for settlement of the rail strike that is not "founded upon the authority of the railway labor board to carry out the mandate given it by congress," the opinion prevailed today that the government has decided, for the present at least, to let the warring factions "fight it out."

Chairman Ben W. Hooper, of the United States Railway Labor Board, reiterated his declaration that the board "contemplates no action for the present." As evidence of its attitude the board today was proceeding with the adjustment of routine matters having no bearing upon the strike situation. Railway executives continued to report interrupted transportation conditions.

DAVIS DECLARES NO EMERGENCY EXISTS REQUIRING TROOPS

COLUMBUS, July 27.—"Inconsistent with the position taken by President Harding on the coal situation," is the comment made today by Governor Davis relative to the declaration, attributed to Secretary of Commerce Hoover that he "looks to Governor Davis to furnish troops at mines to safeguard Ohio's coal needs."

"Our policy has been that troops are to be stationed directly at mines only in case there is a flagrant threat of the state of law and order and our position in this respect is in thorough accord with President Harding's ideas, I have been directly assured," Governor Davis asserted.

The governor called attention to the fact, that preceding and after the appeal of the president to coal operators to resume activities Ohio troops were mobilized to give whatever protection would be demanded by circumstances. He asserted further that since the president's proclamation to the country dealing with the coal situation, state troops have been sent in to coal mining regions, in order that they might be close to the scene, in the event that military action became necessary.

"The state has taken every precaution to cope with the situation," Governor Davis said. "Since there has been an accord of policy with the highest federal authorities, Secretary Hoover's quoted statement, is to say the least, incomprehensible."

"We now have troops stationed at Cadiz and Lancaster, points centrally located in two of the most important mining districts in the state. In addition to this, soldiers are mobilized, ready to move, at a number of other localities. Probably, unfamiliarity with all the facts on the part of Secretary Hoover may account for his statement," the governor said.

The only suggestion the state has had from local officials has been from Harrison, and troops were dispatched there. From this base they are also in a position to reach other coal areas. Coal is being mined in Ohio by the stripping process in various localities. Reports from these locations are that no disturbances of any kind exist. "Ohio has endeavored to co-operate with the federal authorities, in every way, to carry out their plans for meeting the coal emergency, and all action taken has been with that end in view," Governor Davis declared.

VOTERS, MEET THE OHIO CANDIDATES FOR GOVERNORSHIP

AKRON, July 27.—(By International News Service)—The boyhood life of Congressman C. L. Knight, local publisher, who is seeking the Republican nomination for governor of Ohio, was spent on a farm. While still in his teens, young Knight left home and entered Vanderbilt University, at Nashville, Tennessee. Later he attended Columbia University, New York City, where he completed his study of law.

During the next two years, he traveled abroad, visiting Egypt, the Holy Land and South America. Upon his return to the United States, he was admitted to the bar and commenced the practice of law at Bluefield, West Virginia. The call of the newspaper profession, however, was too strong, and deserting his law books, he journeyed to Philadelphia, where he became associate editor of the Times.

He continued with that newspaper until 1900, when he became assistant editor and then editor-in-chief of the Women's Home Companion, at Springfield, Ohio. At this time he ventured into the field of formal authorship, publishing "The Real Jefferson Davis" which attracted much attention.

Congressman Knight's net venture was in the joint purchase of the Akron Beacon-Journal. His successful struggle to develop this publication to its present status—one of the most prosperous and representative newspapers in the state—marks one of the most interesting stages of his career.

During the late World war, he drove 12,000 miles over the country urging farmers to increase their crops. He bought $500,000 worth of seed potatoes and sold them to farmers at $3 a bushel when the market price was hovering around $7. Through his newspaper, the Beacon-Journal, he hired expert gardeners and planted 12,000 gardens in Akron.

Congressman Knight has always loved a native outdoor life. In order to pay for his education at Columbia University, he spent a year on a ranch in the southwest, teaching school and doing odd jobs.

He is a pedestrian, walking five or six miles every day. His hobby is in working in his garden, which he spades himself, or in "pitching in" at his farm near Hudson, Ohio, where he gives personal attention to management, crop-raising and stock.

"Not much for social activities," Congressman Knight, himself, declares casting his vote for the quiet home life. Flowers and birds always interest him. The former are much in evidence around his home here.

Farmers find him interesting because he can talk their language. He relates many amusing stories of rural residents who mistake him for a weary businessman maintaining a farm for novelty.

Much of his time is now spent in Washington, D. C., where he is serving as Congressman from the 14th district, consisting of Lorain, Medina, Summit and Portage counties. He was elected to this office in November, 1920.

THREE COLUMBUS YOUTHS DROWNED WHILE SWIMMING

COLUMBUS, O., July 27.—The bodies of Henry Beretneicher, and Arnold Rohner, Jr., 11, were recovered from the Scioto river here by police. Search is being continued for the body of Howard Fritz, 14, believed to have been the third member of an ill-fated swimming party. The three lads left their homes Tuesday morning and failed to return. The operator of a dredging machine, while dredging sand from the bottom of the river, caught sight of a boy's body that was brot to the surface by the scoop, and then fell back into the water.

Police were notified and with their discovery of three piles of clothing along the river bank, first intimation of the tragic fate of the lads became known.

FRENCH SOLDIERS IN SYRIA PUNISHED FOR GOVERNMENT'S DEEDS

CAIRO, EGYPT, July 27.—Thirty-four French soldiers have been killed in wide-spread disorders thruout Syria following receipt of news that the league of nations council has ratified the French mandate for Syria, according to advices received here today.

The situation in Syria is described as being "extremely serious." It was reported a month ago that Charles R. Crane, former American ambassador to China, had been ordered arrested their clubs. Joseph Gemil was arrested as the leader of the strikers.

Syria on the charge that he had aided the Syrian Nationalists. This report, however, proved untrue.

Strike Riot Breaks Out In Chi. Shops

CHICAGO, July 27.—Disorder during which four revolver shots were fired in the air, broke out near the shops of the Illinois Central railroad at Burnside today. The riot occurred as Paul Miske, a non-union mechanic, was stopped on his way to work by a group of strikers.

"You've got to quit work," he was told. "You go to hell," Miske was quoted as saying. The men beat him about the head and face and he drew a revolver and fired. No one was struck. Fifteen policemen rushed to the scene and restored order with to China, had been ordered arrested their clubs. Joseph Gemil was arrested as the leader of the strikers.

Especially beautiful and impressive was the wedding of Miss Esther Catherine Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Green, 1602 east Chestnut-st., to William J. McManus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward McManus, 315 East Main-st., which took place Thursday morning, at 8 o'clock, in the Sacred Heart church.

In the presence of a large company of friends and relatives of the bride couple, Father J. J. Slattery performed the solemn high nuptial mass, assisted by his brother, Father Terrence Slattery, of North Dakota and Father Daum, of Dresden.

A mass of asparagus ferns, pink gladioli and other greenery formed an artistic grouping about the altar, while clusters of the ferns and delicate blooms were placed about the church, suspended from the choir loft and side lights.

A half hour's program of wedding music was given by Miss Irene Rodgers, at the organ, preceding Robert Vogel's solo, "Peace Be Still, Where God Is Dwelling." To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, the bridal party entered, taking their respective places at the altar. Miss Sarah Fre...

of honor, while Charles McManus, served his brother as best man. Miss Fretague was fetching in a dainty frock of pink organdy with trimmings of orchid satin ribbons, wearing a white and orchid hat to match. Her flowers were Ophelia and Killarney roses.

The bride was lovely in an exquisite gown of ivory satin, simply made, combining georgette and crystal trimmings. The severe round neck and short sleeves were very becoming to the straight lined gown, which was caught at the waist with a bunch of orange blossoms, falling in a shower at the left side. Her long tulle veil, becomingly plaited at the back and was held in place with a band of the orange blossoms, fell in graceful folds to the end of her extreme court train, which hung straight from the shoulders of her bridal robe. With this she carried a bouquet of bride's roses, tied with white satin ribbon, which completed her elegant costume.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast for 55 guests was served at the Town and Country club. Centering the bride's table was the huge wedding cake, arranged in two tiers, and prettily trimmed with a miniature bride and bridegroom, pink rosebuds and white leaves. Dainty baskets filled with nuts were given as favors while cards in the pink and white marked places for the guests. Quantities of summer flowers carrying out the effective color scheme of pink and white, were used throughout the club and at the tables.

Robert Vogel entertained with several pleasing vocal numbers. The bride is one of Coshocton's most attractive and popular young women and is especially prominent among the younger social set. After being graduated from the Coshocton High school, Miss Green was engaged as bookkeeper at the Hunt-Crawford company, resigning her position recently.

Mr. McManus is a graduate of the Sacred Heart school, of St. Mary's College, St. Marys, Ky., and of Ohio State University. In college he became a member of the Phi Kappa fraternity and the Newman club. He is also a member of the local chapter of the Alpha Pi fraternity, the K. of C. club and an Elk.

After a several days motor trip thru the east, Mr. and Mrs. McManus will return to this city where they will make their home. Mr. McManus is employed at the Smith Drug store, as pharmacist.

Ford And Radio

HENRY FORD'S experiments with radio, we imagine, will be watched expectantly. The report is credible that Mr. Ford hopes to supplant the telephone and telegraph with radio in the area of long-distance communication in the operation of his far-flung enterprises. The radio, he believes, will furnish a superior service at less cost, and in view of the fact that this new agency is already a reputed commercial success in the oil fields and in the transmission of agricultural information it seems quite probable that the hope will be realized.

Something more, however, may be looked for from the Ford experiments. The acknowledged manufacturing genius of history will hardly be content with proceeding further along established lines. Important as such development might well be, it is reasonable to believe that, with his great resources, need and ingenuity, Ford may find new worlds for the radio to conquer. He may conceivably harness the radio to the lesser, more intimate tasks now performed by the telephone and telegraph. If such a possibility now seems fanciful it is only because of our hereditary distrust of new inventions. Men are still with us who can remember when the telephone could never be more than a toy, and men still a considerable distance from old age can recall when the automobile was a contraption partly interesting but mostly diabolic.

That Henry Ford was the biggest factor in the meteoric growth of the motor industry cannot be gainsaid. It was he who put the mob in automobile. Why should he not do as much for radio?

Who Are Our Lawmakers?

THE reluctant admission of Senator Smoot, under the prodigal of Senator Lenroot, that the additional 12 per cent ad valorem duty on fancy cotton cloths was "word for word" as proposed by Henry F. Lippitt, a cotton-goods manufacturer of Providence, R. I., will not surprise our readers who have followed the history of the present tariff bill. But the confession raises this interesting and important question:

Who are our lawmakers?

Every two years we elect men to Congress to make our laws. Apparently they do not perform that duty. They leave the actual work to others. Anyhow, that is true as regards the tariff. This particular cotton duty is not an exceptional instance. What Lippitt has done for cotton Littauer has done for gloves. It is the same with silk, wool, the metals, hides and numerous other products. Special interests have written various sections of the tariff bill, for the purpose of enriching themselves at the expense of the ultimate consumer, who is without a friend among the Congressmen ostensibly in charge of this legislation.

The question is one of the utmost gravity. If the men whom we elect and employ to make our laws are, thru indolence or cowardice or both, permitting others to do this work, what is our recourse? Plainly, we must reprimand those unfaithful servants and either give them another chance or discharge them and put men in their places who will honestly keep their contract with us. If we don't do that, then the presumption is that we are content to let the special interests manage our public affairs without authority from us and without responsibility to us. When we come to that pass we shall no longer be a self-governing people, nor shall we longer be capable of self-government.

Legislative Blocs

ECHOES are still heard of the protests against what has been called the "farmer bloc" in Congress, altho they are becoming fainter. A custom that is as old as the Constitution itself would be accepted as a matter of course if it were confined to the big interests alone. For little fellows like the farmers to indulge in it gives our guardians of "democracy" some anxious hours.

Nearly 20 years ago three large insurance companies were known to have divided the country into three districts, each company in control of legislation in behalf of the insurance business in its district, which consisted of 10 states in each. Over $740,000 was spent for "legal" services in the one year of 1914.

The State of Illinois developed an interesting wrinkle in the organization of what came to be known as a "jackpot." This became notorious in the year that Lorimer was sent to the United States Senate. Out of nearly $1,000,000 raised for the "jackpot" in one year, one-fourth was spent to elect Lorimer. The "jackpot" was an efficiency method of pooling votes in the Legislature for all the big and powerful interests desirous of getting certain legislation.

In order to insure solidarity and continued loyal service of the lawmakers, the payments out of the "jackpot" were not made until the end of the legislative session. All that was required of Republicans and Democrats, both of the parties being included in the arrangement, was for the faithful quietly to deliver the goods as ordered. They knew that a share of the "jackpot" awaited them for their "loyalty."

To guard against leakage, the paymaster was known to only a few of the guardians and collectors of the "jackpot." There were no men elected in Illinois as candidates of one or the other of the two old parties. Owing allegiance to one or the other of the party machines, they often lined up for their share of the "jackpot."

These "door representatives," of course, had to satisfy the folks back home in some way. This was easy, as the custodians told them to talk all the "wanted" talk against the "interests," which would be all right. And that the custodians were interested in was the votes of these men and not their talk. The result was that these "labor" members got their share of the "jackpot," the voters got the "labor" and the interests got the legislation they desired. Every day for something, even the constituents of the "Labor" members.

The Illinois experiment is about the most scientific case of a bloc, thoroughly organized for capitalist interests that we know of. It not only had its machinery in the Legislature in the rubber stamps who registered the will of Illinois bosses, but it also was directly connected with the big corporations, mainly those in Chicago. All other blocs since that day have been rather cheap imitations compared with the "jackpot" of Illinois.

New York Day-By-Day

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, July 27.—"Amateur nighits" on the Bowery are as enduring as the thoroughfare's air of dilapidation. The hopes rise and fall each Friday night and even uptown New York travels southward to see what are the most amusing, yet tragic, performances in the world of the theatre.

The Bowery goes to the amateur night with all the stubbornness of the first night of Death Watch. They have got to be shown and sentiment finds no place among the audience. If a shandily legged girl in tawdry home made costume sings "O, Solo Mio" and cracks on a high note she is not spared "the hook" which the stage manager uses to yank failures into the oblivion of the wings.

"You'd better be good," the Bowery shouts to the newcomer who may be a juggler, fire-eater or box comedian. And if he isn't good he is pelted with all sorts of missiles.

The other night a pathetic figure in clown makeup was struggling through a monologue. His knees had all the rigidity of a cup of custard and his voice could not be heard beyond the footlights.

"Louder," shouted a patron in the first row.

"Yes, and funnier" boomed a leath-

WALT MASON

RICHES

I sometimes yearn for coin to burn, for all the brands of money; "this life," I think, "with loads of clink, would certainly be sunny. Now down the road, to my abode, the wolf is drawing closer; and I must scheme and plan and dream of how to pay the grocer. The rent is due and landlords two will soon demand their dollars, and bailiffs bum will shortly come, with other noxious callers. The whole year round I lack the pound, the kopeck and the shilling, I envy, then, the wealthy men who've made a princely killing." At divers dates with wealthy skates I mingle and foregather, and hear them swear and groan with care until they're in a lather. The market slumps a brace of jumps and mill-onaries are roaring, the prices rise and wealthy guys are busted by their soaring. For discount the Croesus gent has all the records broken, he gathers up the leavings cup and every other token. When I observe his weary cure, his care beyond all telling, I'm reconciled to bailiffs wild who drill around my dwelling.

The ultimate end of genius is ideal.

He who can pay homage to the despicable is truly contemptible.

Cheerful good-humor gives honesty grace.

Speculation, knowledge, is not the chief end of man—it is action.

Decision of character is one of the most important of human qualities.

There is generally something that requires hiding at the bottom of a mystery.

If the best man's faults were written over his forehead it would make him pull his hat over his eyes.

Heroism is the divine relation which in all times unites a great man to other men.

Weep not that the world changes. Did it keep a stable, changeless course, 'twere cause to weep.

If you would be pungent, be brief, for it is with words as with sunbeams—the more they are condensed the deeper they burn.

History makes a young man old without either wrinkles or gray hairs, privileging him with the experience of age without either the inconvenience or infirmities thereof.

You're great man always comes to see something the public don't see. This something he will assuredly persist in asserting whether with tongue or pencil and all the world on the other side will not get him to say otherwise.

OHIO COAL SHIPPERS ALLEGE RAILROADS AVOID FREIGHT CUTS

COLUMBUS, July 27.—The state utilities commission today has under consideration the joint request of Southern Ohio Coal Operators, Cleveland, Toledo, Lorain, Mansfield, Akron, and Canton chambers of commerce, and Northern Ohio manufacturing concerns for an order directing Ohio railroads to adhere strictly to the approximately 10 per cent cut in coal freight rates, as ordered by the interstate commerce commission, effective July first, last.

The commission's hearing was completed here late yesterday afternoon. The complainants advised the commission that they would rest their case. The railroads are to submit a brief not later than Monday. Members of the commission declared that the order will be effective only from the date of issuance, provided the complainants' request is granted and no refunds will be ordered paid by the railroads to shippers.

The complainants claimed that the railroads by dividing the coal fields, of Southern Ohio and West Virginia, into three shipping districts, and applying a differential scale rate in adjusting traffic schedules to the new rate, discriminated against the Ohio shipper in favor of the West Virginia coal shippers.

Rule With No Exceptions.

Go where you get the Truck Tire Service

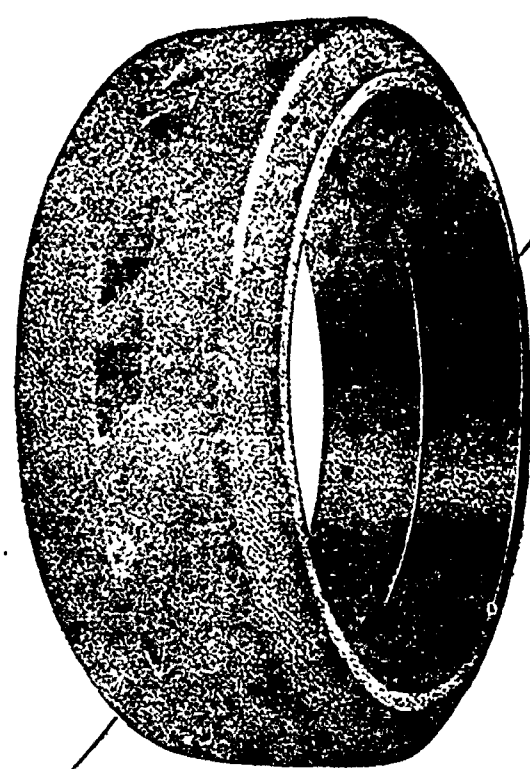

WHEREVER trucks are in operation today you will find this true—

Truck tires made for use under certain loads and speeds are wasting tire money and repair money when used under conditions for which they are not intended.

U. S. Truck Tire Dealers are giving a service to truck owners that cuts the cost per delivered load—per trip—per mile.

The four types of U. S. Truck Tires—Regular Solid, Nobby Truck, High Size, and Mono-Twin, each one scientifically developed, provide the correct and most economical equipment for every trucking condition.

Ask the U. S. Truck Tire Dealer.

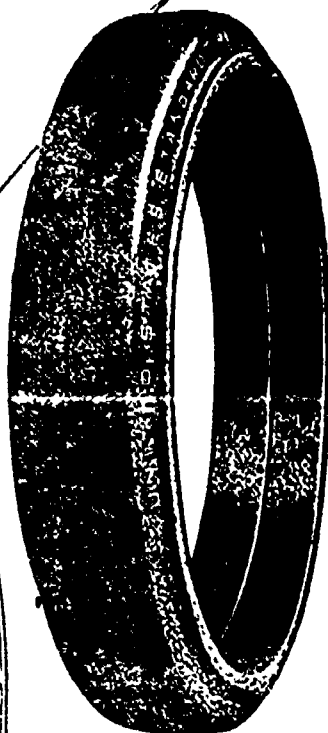

U. S. Mono-Twin—The heavy duty cushion tire for big trucks at moderate speeds over all types of roads.

U. S. High-Size—More rubber than regular solid, giving greater cushion and greater mileage.

U. S. Nobby Truck Tire—Built especially for commercial service where speed and maximum cushion are required.

U. S. Regular Solid—A general service tire for average loads at moderate speed, broad flat tread.

CHAUTAUQUA OPENS WITH LARGE CROWD THURSDAY

The Radcliffe chautauqua opened under canvas in the Warner Field, Thursday afternoon with a large attendance. The tent was packed, something unusual for an afternoon program.

The Vassar Girls delighted and entertained the attendants in the afternoon with their program of sparkling variety of instrumental and vocal music. The girls are called the six "varsatile" young ladies.

The afternoon program included D. W. Daniel, an educator, humorist and lecturer, who spoke on "Benefits Forgetting." It was an appealing and forceful lecture. His subject this evening will be, "How We Got Our Government."

Tomorrow's program is as follows: The Clifford Collins Duo, who will appear in the afternoon, introducing musical novelties and character sketches of humor.

In the evening the Skibinsky-Reed Company will entertain the patrons. A. M. Skibinsky, the noted Russian violinist and Miss Myra Reed will entertain.

Edward Tomlinson, the brilliant young American orator, lectures on "Making the Dream Come True" in the evening he will lecture on "America's Political Faith."

CHAT. BOOSTER MEETING WEDNESDAY EVENING WAS HUGE SUCCESS AT TENT

The big public chautauqua booster meeting held in the chautauqua tent Wednesday evening at Warner Field, was a big success from every standpoint.

A big special program was rendered. One of the main things of the program was the delightful concert given by Conductor Manuel Yingling's Hyperion Band.

The following program was carried out successfully:

March—Yosemite, Owen.

Overture—Orphe aux Enfers, Orfenbach.

Waltz—Wreaths of Gold, Hall.

Fox Trot—My Mammy's Mammy, Akst.

Popular Number—When Shall We Meet Again, Lacey.

Selection—The Merry Widow, Lehlar.

Slideology—That Jazzin Rastus, Zimbor.

Characteristic—Placidity, Zamecnik.

Finale—Lyceylon, Sanglean.

Miss Maurine Woodruff, junior chautauqua leader has arrived. She held the first meeting in the basement of the M. E. church Monday afternoon. About fifty boys and girls were in attendance.

This morning the children met at the chautauqua tent for play and to practice for platform games and the pageant, which is to be given Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by the juniors. A final rehearsal in the pageant will be held Friday morning.

HOBOWANTED RIDE, NOT EMPLOYMENT

A hobo came into Mayor W. T. Banning's office Wednesday evening and asked the chief executive if he would give him a ticket to Cleveland, as he wanted to get work there.

The mayor said that the village did not make a practice of lending financial aid to hoboes, but that if he wanted work he would secure it for him.

The hobo said he was unable to get work in that part of the country. When the mayor offered to secure the shabby customer employment at the Clow plant, he said that he did not like shop work. The mayor then called by phone W. M. Brode, a contractor, who is employing men to improve a road near Newcomerstown. Mr. Brode said that he needed men badly and for the mayor to send him up to his home. The mayor showed the man how he could reach the Brode residence. Instead of going in the direction of employment, he left the mayor's office in the opposite direction, up the Pennsy. R. R. track and began hoofing it out of town.

The man said his home was in Buffalo, N. Y.

Lucas made satisfactory arrangement with Mayor Banning to pay $5.60 on his first pay day, which comes on August 7, and the other $5.60 on the second pay day, which falls on August 22.

The mayor fined him $25.50 but suspended all but $11.60 on good behavior.

Workers began Thursday on erecting James Rennard's blacksmith shop on the corner of Canal and College-sts. of Newcomerstown. The council so far has not granted a lease to Rennard and will not do so.

LAVENDER PIECE

By MILDRED WHITE

Aunt Priscilla spread the quilt on the bed and she and her niece bent above it.

"I like the lavender piece," said Priscilla, the young.

"My, what a time grandmother must have had sewing those pieces of muslin and calico together—wasted time," added this member of a later generation.

"I don't know that it was wasted time," Priscilla replied. "The sewing kept your grandmother occupied and content. Neither you nor I appreciate the quilt as we should. Why, it is all woven stories. Each dainty piece represents some memory."

"Are there memories of yours there, Priscilla?" asked the girl.

She and the sweet-faced aunt were like companions of the same age. The elder woman's eyes grew softly reminiscent. With a light finger she touched the lavender square.

"The day I wore that dress," she said, "my true love first met me. I wore it also the day we said good-by."

"Tell me the story," said the girl abruptly.

"There is little to tell, dear. I met Homer Reid and my heart flew out to him. He was all my youthful dreams had fancied—the realization of my ideal. And I never cared for anyone else. He admired my little lavender dress that first enchanted evening and always after, because of its color, he called me Violet. When his visits ceased I laid the dress away. The last night that he came I had the dress on, I remember, and when he said, 'Good night Violet,' I thought that his backward glance was very tender. He was leaving the next morning for New York. When he came home again he was altogether absorbed in work, while I became more and more occupied with your invalid grandmother. I was glad then that the making of the quilt afforded her happiness."

"Mr. Reid, the lawyer, is not married," remarked Priscilla irrelevantly. "Probably the stupid has loved you all the time. Yours is a tame love story, Priscilla, and could not possibly happen in the days of the modern woman. I got after him and want to know what was the matter, which was better for both parties concerned," Priscilla smiled.

"The modern woman such as you undoubtedly would," she replied. "It was several days later that the lawyer, going home at evening, met with a pretty picture. A girl in a lavender dress was engaged in picking roses in an old-fashioned garden across the hedge."

"If you will come into the garden, Mr. Reid," cheerfully invited this young person. "I will give you some roses for your mother."

A graceful child, thought the lawyer, and stepped inside.

"I will have to hurry," she explained. "Bertie is coming to take me for a ride."

"Bertie?" politely questioned Homer Reid.

Priscilla nodded. "My sweetheart, as Aunt Priscilla would call him Bertie thinks lots of Aunt Priscilla. He thinks I look like her."

The niece glanced up sideways. "Do you? Of course you must know Miss Priscilla Dean."

"I used to know her very well indeed," the lawyer answered gravely. "He took the roses and went thoughtfully away."

"What's the idea?" asked Bertie over the hedge, "aiming to be an old man's darling?"

"Jealous again?" mocked Priscilla merrily. "Bertie, be glad you live in the present age."

Priscilla Dean looked unusually attractive when upon the following Sabbath she emerged from the church edifice with her young niece, Miss Dean, always becomingly attired, had acquired some added charm in the lavender frock of her niece's choice.

Blithely, Priscilla the young, nodded to a distinguished gentleman who passed them.

"How did the roses go?" she questioned humbly.

Priscilla Dean caught her breath in confusion but Homer Reid as humbly replied:

"Mother thought the roses were great, she wants you to come and see her. Though it's a good deal to ask youth to companion old age."

"He fell into it at their side," Priscilla said, "as well as I should."

"The girl started," "I am to be married soon and I'm busy."

Smiling, she hurried on ahead to her Bertie.

Homer Reid gazed into the sweet face of his own.

"Priscilla," he said slowly, "you are not a very old and I met and loved long ago. My Violet! But the busy years took from me."

Priscilla glanced over her shoulder.

"Bertie," she remarked, "I'm going to have some one sew a piece of this dress I laid away. 'No quilt'."

"Nuts," he roared Bertie tenderly.

Not so fast, After All.

"Do you ever want to leave the farm?"

"Yes," said Mr. Cobble. "Now and then I get to feeling that way, and when I do I run down to the city for a few days. After I've been elbowing, stepped on, hauled at by traffic police men, insulted by head waiters and held up by bellhops I set out for the home place in a pretty cheerful frame of mind."

FEED YOUNG FLOCKS

THRUOUT SUMMER

Chicks That Pick at Your Shoestrings Will Never Make Good, Says College Man

Keep right on feeding the chicks, say poultry extension men of the Ohio State University who are leading a State wide educational campaign on flock feeding, just started through the medium of the township and county farm bureaus.

One such worker, G. S. Vickers who is now conducting special feeding schools for farmers who will lead their townships in the campaign, tells his audiences of a farm recently visited, that he believes is representative of conditions on thousands of other farms and in many suburban back yards.

"The owner of this farm brought 500 chicks to the age of 10 weeks in excellent shape. Then stopped feeding everything but a little grain, and that only occasionally."

"Within a week, the chicks stopped growing. They took on that shriveled appearance which marks the underfed animal. They were ravenously hungry. A man going among them was lucky to get out with his shoestrings."

"All that was needed to put this young flock again on the road to growth and profits was a good dry mash and a supply of milk kept before them at all times."

"To feed for eggs one must start long before the flock is of laying age, and keep it up. How chicks are fed this month and next determines to a great extent how many eggs they will give next winter when they come into production."

9,000 ENGINES ORDERED OUT OF SERVICE WEEKLY

WASHINGTON, July 27. — The motive power of the railroads is deteriorating at rate of nine thousand locomotives a week ordered out of commission for want of repairs, it was learned from government figures today.

Determining to battle against these odds, railroad chiefs, it was stated in an authoritative government quarter today, are prevailing upon major locomotive construction plants to take over the work of overhauling "sick" locomotives ahead of work on hand.

Hundreds of locomotives, it was stated, are being sent daily to the building plants of the Baldwin locomotive works at Philadelphia, the American Locomotive Co., with plants at Richmond, Va., and Schenectady, N. Y., the Lima Locomotive Co., at Lima, O., and numerous smaller concerns throughout the country and in some sections to shipbuilding plants equipped to handle locomotive repair work.

Injunctions Issued

At the same time five additional deputy marshals were sworn in to enforce the court's mandates.

The injunctions were issued in those already obtained in court here by many railroads here.

They were granted in suits filed by the Chicago and North Western Central, Santa Fe, and Union Pacific.

MANY OHIO KIDS DO FARM CLUB WORK

State Has Half As Many Again As Last Year; They Raise Things, Cook, And Sew

Probably no other state can equal Ohio's enrollment of country youngsters in farm and home project clubs this year. Ohio has 18,770. Count of them has just been completed by the office of the State Club Leader, at the Ohio State University.

This is an increase of a full 50 percent over last year's enrollment. Even then, Ohio stood high among the States. This year, 3604 boys and girls have purebred pigs which they are raising not only for the prizes involved, but also to show the old folks that a smart youngster can raise right smart of a pig if he gets the right stock to start with and then goes about it in the modern way.

But the most popular of the club projects is clothing. A total of more than 7,000 girls are making their own clothes in greater or less degree; aprons if they are in their first year of the work, whole outfits if they are in their third or fourth year of it. More than 4,700 girls are cooking and canning.

Almost 600 children are in dairy club; more than 200 are raising beef calves competitively; 1800 are in poultry clubs; and the remainder are raising garden truck, sheep, potatoes, or corn.

Wood has the greatest county enrollment, 867. In this county and also in Anguilla, club work is said to be reaching and turning one in every four of all the country children. Harrison is the only Ohio county without such work. The average enrollment of the other 87 counties is 216.

Bandit Shoots Grocer

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 27.—M. A. Hedrick, 72, a grocer was reported lying in a hospital today having been shot thru the stomach this morning by a bandit who attempted to hold up the grocer in his store.

Hedrick, a mountaineer, frustrated a robbery at his store by opening fire on two negroes with a revolver. When the attempted to reach for his gun today the bandit fired first and then escaped in an automobile.

Irvin Cobb, Zona Gale, Joseph Hergshofer, Booth Tarkington and 19 other equally notable writers have written 27 new stories for The Coshocton Press over the past year.

More Shopmen Strike

PHILADELPHIA, July 27. — They hundred and fifty shopmen of the Philadelphia and Reading roads here are said by other shopmen to have walked out today in protest against the forwarding of cars and locomotives in need of repairs from Rutherford, Penna. to this city.

According to the shopmen, 95 percent of the employees at Rutherford are on strike. Officials of the railroad refused to confirm the walkout here.
